Delegate Booking and Cancellation

As clinical trainers we spend significant time preparing training sessions, with the aim to provide you with current evidence knowledge and practice.

However we are realistic and we know that life happens and that your skills are in very high demand. Our “polite ask” and plea to you, is to try to avoid cancelling on the day of the training.

If you do need to cancel, please offer us your professional courtesy by letting the Trainer and the training administrator know in advance, as far in advance as practical by using the following email: (elft.info.practicedevelopment@nhs.net)

We are required to escalate your non-attendance to your line manager, so they can support future attendance.

In order for us to provide an effective service, we book training on a minimum numbers basis as per Trust Policy. However if the numbers for clinical training falls below the minimum number we are obliged to cancel the training. We will do our “level best” not to cancel, but endeavour to inform delegates as soon as possible via the contact details provided at the time of booking should a cancellation be required.
