

ELFT

self sustainable period pantry

Take what you need, leave what you can

Self-Sustainable Emergency Period Supply

Welcome to the period pantry where you can take or donate period products for yourself and your colleagues in cases of emergencies at work. 86% of women feel anxieties about having their periods at work, 62% of women have had to leave work in order to purchase period products so our aim is to reduce this stress in the workplace. The products in the period pantry are free but we ask that where you can, consider donating period products next time to help further sustain supplies for your fellow colleagues .

Thank you for your support!

Does this pantry need a restock? Want to give us Feedback?

Get in touch:

e: elft.employee.engage@nhs.net